Raster Graphics Raster Graphics for AutoCAD's raster graphics system includes both vector graphics and bitmap graphics. Bitmaps are graphical images created by rasterizing (scanning) the layout of a drawing to a bitmap. This process is done by a raster image processor (RIP) such as the AD-LIPSI and PHOTOSHOP. Vector graphics are based on mathematical, geometric coordinates, and do not have a raster representation. Vector graphics are used for CAD drawing. There are tools to create a vector drawing from a bitmap and there are also tools to edit a vector drawing. Both vector graphics and bitmap graphics are stored in the same file format, DXF. Authoring In AutoCAD and AutoCAD LT, a user can draw a 2D drawing in a layout environment, then import it to a drawing environment where it is converted to a 3D object through the use of tools. AutoCAD LT and AutoCAD does not offer a 2D object. It is still possible to import a 2D drawing as a 3D drawing by following these steps: Select Insert tab > Visual LISP In the Visual LISP command line: File > Import > From 2D Drawing Drawings can be placed in a layout environment or a drawing environment. A user can then work on the layout or the 3D object, respectively. Navigation AutoCAD supports navigation by double clicking a vertex or a feature in the drawing or by double clicking an object or a feature in the drawing environment. AutoCAD displays a pop-up menu from which the user can choose to lock a feature or the drawing environment. Users can also use the keyboard commands to navigate to and lock their desired feature or drawing. When a feature or drawing is locked, it cannot be moved, scaled, rotated, or copied. Een brief van de Amsterdamse ombudsman tegen zijn collega-ambtenaren. Hij vraagt hen om duidelijke handelspatronen. Minister Erik Terpstra (VVD) moet volgens de ombudsman het parlement na zijn aanstelling toch aan de haal nemen, alsof hij ouderwets en zonder kennis is. Terpstra moet namelijk weten wat hij aan ondernemen heeft. 'Dat is zo onduidelijk dat ik van de minister afwijzend denk', schrijft de ombudsman in een brief aan de VVD-fractieleiders. 'Ik zie twijfels over de ambtenaren die u komende maanden aan uw kant zullen staan.' De VVD zegt dat de brief van de ombudsman niet serieus is. De brief stuurt hij namens zijn collega, het bevoegde parlementair onderzoeksteam, die de ombudsman naast zich neemt. De ombudsman weigert een reactie te geven. 'Mijn adviseur zal over deze brief commenteren.' De ombudsman heeft aangegeven dat hij 'tot nu toe niet onderzoek opneemt', omdat er 'nu geen gerechtelijke aanklacht is tegen de VVD-fractieleiders'. Terpstra is minister van Sociale Zaken. Bij de VVD zijn er vermoedelijk twijfels over of de ambtenaren eerst een langere periode a
